Messrs. A. C. Saunders & Co., have on hand a large supply of very nice Mountain Butter which they are selling at very low prices. Farmers would do well to call on them and examine their Guanos, they sell the cheapest and the best.

——About half the law-makers got off yesterday.

——Already the hotels look in a great measure deserted.

——Yesterday was a lovely day. The weather changes about as often as the tenor of the dispatches.

——Hon. Kemp P. Battle, of this city, was to have delivered his lecture upon the university in its relations to the agricultural interests of the State, at Concord, last evening.

——Is there never to be any more amusement in Raleigh? There has been nothing in the theatrical line since the fair, and the town and its visitors are about to perish from ennui.

——The Mayor's docket was light yesterday. Tom Johnson (not the Senator from Buncombe) was up for fast driving, and was confined in the guard house. A couple of cases were continued for some cause or other.

——Maj. Manly has appointed Mr. Sherwood Haywood, of the Young Men's Tilden and Vance Club, and Mr. John Cayton, of the Mechanics' Club, as the marshals of their respective organizations on inauguration day.

——A meeting of the members of the Raleigh Light Infantry will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock, at the Mayor's office. A full and prompt attendance is highly desirable, as business of importance will come before the meeting.

——Zack Morgan, colored, was sent in from Little River, yesterday, by Justice T. J. Wiggins, and confined in jail for the crime of larceny and because he could not give a bond of $100 for his appearance at court. He had laid unholy hands on some geese.

——The market is full of rabbits, squirrels and birds. Yesterday morning Dr. Blacknall gave all of his guests a rabbit breakfast, and might have given each one two rabbits apiece if he had just thought of it, for certainly there was no lack of them in the market.

At Last Determined.

The referees, Messrs. S. H. Wiley and John White, have at length given their decision in the long and tedious referee case of the North Carolina Land Company and Dr. McCallum against Messrs. Beatty and Bennett, the purchasers of the Ore Hill mining property in Chatham county. The sale was effected through the land company and its agent, Dr. McCallum, who was a co-plaintiff in the action, which was brought to recover the commissions upon the sale. The referees gave judgment in behalf of the plaintiffs for the sum of $2,500. Messrs. Battle, Battle and Mordecai and W. W. Jones appeared for the North Carolina Land Company, and Messrs. Merrimon, Fuller and Ashe for Dr. McCallum; while Judge Fowle, and Messrs. Jos. B. Batchelor and Smith and Strong appeared for the defendents, Messrs. Beatty and Bennett. The suit was brought for the recovery of $5,000.

Christmas Advertising.

Our merchants, and all others who have Christmas or holiday goods for sale, will find no more effectual mode of reaching the universal reading public than through the columns of the NEWS. The paper enjoys to-day a much greater circulation than it has done at any previous period of its publication, and is far in advance of any other newspaper in North Carolina. If any doubt its efficiency as an advertising medium we can assure all such that a test in its columns will speedily remove every doubt.

Air Brakes on the N. C. Railroad.

The Westenhouse air brakes have been put on all mail trains on the North Carolina Railroad between Greensboro and Goldsboro. These were put on the trains on the Richmond & Danville Railroad and North Carolina division of the same, between Richmond and Charlotte, some weeks since. The lives of a good deal of stock have been already saved by means of these brakes, owing to the shortness of time in which a train can be stopped by them.

Convicts Received.

Sheriff Gentry, of Stokes, brought to the penitentiary yesterday, Wm. Sloan, colored, convicted of larceny and sentenced at the recent term of Stokes county court, to 5 years' service in the State's prison.

FUNDING THE CITY DEBT.

Adjourned Meeting of the Board of Aldermen—The Citizens' Meeting—No Action.

Last evening the Board of Aldermen held an adjourned meeting. Mayor Manly presided.

Aldermen Adams, Armstrong, Bradley, Carmer, Flemming, Green, Jones, Lumsden, Murray, Sanders, Upchurch and Walker, were present.

Messrs. J. P. H. Russ, W. J. Hicks, Rev. T. H. Pritchard and C. B. Root, committee on the part of the citizens in regard to the city debt, were also present.

On motion of Alderman Carmer, the citizens' committee were invited to take seats within the bar.

The Committee on Expenses were granted further time in which to make a report.

The Finance Committee submitted a report.

The pay roll of the Chief of Police, for the month of November, amounting to $1,336 95 was approved.

The pay roll of the Street Commissioner, for same month, amounting to $686.76 was also approved. The committee also recommended the payment of sundry accounts.

The various accounts approved by the Committee were allowed by the Board.

All matters of variance in reference to city property, were referred to this committee on Finance with powers to act.

Alderman Jones moved that a committee be appointed to make certain needed amendments to the city charter. Adopted.

On motion of Alderman Lumsden, the clerk of the market was directed to rent stalls on the Saturday before the 1st of January.

The question in regard to the funding of the city debt came up for discussion. City Attorney F. H. Busbee gave a comprehensive sketch of the financial condition of the city, going back to years prior to the year 1875. Mr. Busbee read from decisions of the Supreme Court in various suits against the city, and the bearing of these was that the city must fund or pay, &c. It was true that this debt was not contracted by this Board but by previous Boards of Commissioners, but their action was binding on this Board and according to the aforementioned decisions of the Supreme Court the city was compelled to appropriate all funds over and above actual and necessary expenses to the payment of as much as possible of its debt. If the city did not show some disposition to pay its liabilities, a peremptory mandamus would issue in place of the alternative one already granted.

Rev. Dr. Pritchard, of the citizens' committee, said that as he understood the matter the charter of the city required the funding of the debt, so the Board had nothing to do with that matter. He was trustee of Wake Forest College and that institution of learning had $16,000 invested in the bonds of this city, principal and interest amounting to over $21,000. The College did not press for immediate payment of the principal, but wanted a good investment and would be willing to take a 6 per cent funded bond. The impression had gone abroad that the college trustees had made a great mistake in making the investment; that the bonds were not worth the paper upon which they are written, and this was doing great harm to the college which was endeavoring to raise an endowment fund of $100,000. He wished this matter should be so arranged as to place these evidences of honest indebtness beyond dispute and cavil.

Mr. A. D. Royster, of the citizens' committee, thought it time enough to fund when the peremptory mandamus came. It was evident that a great majority of the people of the city were decidedly against funding.

Col. J. P. H Russ thought that the only way out of the difficulty was to exercise the strictest economy in every department, and thus save enough of the city revenues to pay at least a portion of the interest. The taxes were already as high as the charter allowed.

Alderman Carmer said that the Board at the outset had instituted a strict economy in all departments, and the city government could not be run for less. Col. Russ thought that some of the officers and employees might be dispensed with. On extra occasions extra force could be employed and paid for time employed.

Mr. A. D Royster thought that from the taxes at present imposed the city ought to save $10,000 or $15,000, in the purpose of extinguishing the debt, &c.

The City Attorney in explaining the benefits of funding said that the debt would be easy to handle, and the rate of interest reduced from 8 per cent to 6 per cent.

Alderman Jones and Supervisor S. L. Fl... that as the people had ... propositions ... no to take ... til the cou... would be in favor of placing the debt on as a good a footing as possible, &c. He was of the opinion that the best plan was to issue 30 year bonds, at 6 per cent. instead of the "short" bonds, and when the court issued a peremptory mandamus then he would be in favor of placing the other bonds on the same footing as the market house bonds, then this would be beyond all dispute, &c.

Rev. Dr. Pritchard did not see the use of fighting against the law and rejecting liberal overtures on the part of creditors, especially Wake Forrest College. The law would finally compel the faculty. He did not regard the recent elections on funding as expressive of anything. He did not see the use of postponing now what was inevitable and thus lose the reduction of interest. He was glad to find that the bonds owned by Wake Forest were in better condition than he had hoped for.

Mr. C. B. Root, of the citizens' committee, said he came here out of respect to the call made upon him, not that he expected to be benefitted by it. The court had already decided the matter, stumbling blocks might be interposed, but the end had to come and the debt be paid, &c.

The Mayor announced Aldermen Armstrong, Cook, Carmer, Green and Jones, as the committee on amendments to the charter.

After some further debate, Alderman Sanders moved to indefinitely postpone the whole matter. Lost.

The Board then adjourned without taking any definite action.

ANOTHER SUMMONS.

The Secretary of State Subpœnaed—The Official Vote for the Electors Wanted—North Carolina to be "Investigated."

Late Monday night Secretary of State Howerton received a telegraphic subpœna to proceed to Washington at once to testify before the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections, and to bring with him a certified copy of the vote of North Carolina for electors for President. This is the summons:

SERGEANT-AT-ARMS' OFFICE,
UNITED STATES SENATE,
Washington, D. C., Dec. 11, '76.

Hon. W. H. Howerton, Secretary of State, Raleigh, N. C.:

GREETING—Pursuant to lawful authority you are commanded to appear forthwith before the Committee of the United States Senate on Privileges and Elections in the Committee room in the Capitol at Washington to testify what you may know relative to the subject matters under consideration by said Committee, and you are hereby required to bring with you a certified copy of the vote of North Carolina for electors for President at the election held November 7th, 1876 and also copies of all laws of said State in relation to the manner of canvassing and returning the electoral vote of said State.

What day may you be expected? Please answer by telegraph at once.

JOHN R. FRENCH,
Sergeant-at-Arms, U. S. Senate.

Dr. Howerton will leave for Washington on Thursday in obedience to this summons. He regards this "investigation" into the election in North Carolina as ridiculous, and told the NEWS reporter that he had never known a fairer election in this State than the last.

In addition to Dr. Howerton, Col W. R. Richardson, Keeper of the Capitol, and late one of the editors of the Constitution, and A. W. Tourgee, were summoned to Washington at the same time, to appear before the same committee. It is supposed that all of the summoned parties will leave on the same train.

Sheriffs Settled.

Sheriff Watts, of Iredell, settled yesterday, the tax of his county with the State Treasurer, for the current year, said tax amounting to $6,780.47.

Sheriff Gentry, of Stokes, settled also, paying in $3,732.32.

Sheriff Dewease, of Cherokee, settled also, to the amount of $1 642.18.

There are yet 13 sheriffs who have not settled.

Time is money; emphatically so when Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup frequently cures colds, coughs, etc, in less than a day. Price, 25 cents a bottle. Sold everywhere.

Invigorate, and Be Healthy.

The source of nine-tenths of the bodily ills of mankind is a deficiency of vital power. No portion of the physical machinery can efficiently perform its allotted duty if there is insufficient nutritive force in the system. Having failed, therefore, in order to regain health. For the restoration of lost vitality, those diseases of the blood which are the most frequently superinduced by impoverished vitality, the debilitated system, and overcome disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels which interfere with complete assimilation of the food and thus cripple nature's work—use the citizens like wise cure and preventative, Hostetter's celebrated delibitating ordinary troubles, and eliminate from the blood through the kidneys the impurities which originate gout, rheumatism and dropsy. Appetite, digestion, sleep—in short every one should be solicitous of health, restored by their use.

D. Wm Stewart, Marine Hospital Port of Baltimore: "I take pleasure in recommending Gordon's Liebig's Liquid Extract of Beef as a most excellent tonic and invigorant of the system. I have tested it with unive sal success."

AT a public meeting of the Democrats of Chicago it was the predominant opinion that the action of the House of Representatives should be maintained at all hazards.

THE refusal of United States Senator Robertson, of South Carolina, to allow his name to go before the Chamberlain Legislature is a good sign. He recognizes that assemblage as unconstitutional. His prominence as a Republican gives considerable importance to his opinion on the subject.

THE General Assembly adjourns to-day, to meet again on the 30th of the present month. This part of the session has been abridged as much as the public interests would allow. The great bulk of the needed legislation is left over for the remaining portion of the session. Very few public laws have been enacted.

THE letter of Hon. R. P. Waring, which we present this morning, from Washington, gives a clear insight into the situation. The President of the Senate, it is believed, will count in Hayes, and the Northern Democrats will probably submit. This is the probable outlook now. Tilden is elected, but his inauguration is not the most certain of future events.

THE Mobile Register says "the casting of the electoral votes of Alabama for Hayes by the defeated Radical electors is the quintessence of rascality." It is an attempt to steal the State's vote. No one is astonished at this. The Republicans of Alabama, like those of other States, have formed the habit of stealing, and it is not to be expected that they can stop short off. It will require an age of reformatory process to break the Radicals from their vicious habits.

MR. CHARLES O'CONOR has written a letter in which he expresses the bold opinion that the march of McDowell upon Richmond was the death of the Republic. The subjugation of the South imperiled the Constitution of the United States by placing in power a party led by a military tyrant; but our free institutions have not yet been overthrown. The triumph of the Democrats at the polls on the 7th of November proves that a majority of the people are determined to preserve them. The Republic is not yet dead, as extremists would have us believe.

WE present elsewhere this morning some remarks by Professor A. W. Mangum, delivered at the Greensboro Conference, last week, upon the subject of the University and its relations to the Methodist Church. The subject touched upon is one of deep interest and considerable moment. No one will deny that the Methodist Church should have equal representation with other churches upon the Faculty. We are very sure the honorable trustees endeavored earnestly to equalize the representation. The introduction of religious questions, of theological controversy, denominational conflicts, or sectarian teachings into the University, should be avoided as far as the religious interests of the students or the consciences of the reverend professors will allow, as it is fraught with some danger to the success of the Institution. Equal representation of the several denominations upon the Faculty, and elective bible classes, securing to each teacher the liberty to teach denominationally, apart from his duties as Professor—will prevent any disagreements on this score.

THE PUBLIC DEBT.

The effort made by the Legislature of 1874-'75 to consolidate the debt of the State, proves in the main almost entirely fruitless. The act of 1874-'75, entitled "An act to compromise, commute and settle the State debt," authorized the issuance of new bonds of the State for certain classes of old bonds, at rates fixed by the statute. The whole scheme rested upon the willingness of the creditors to make the exchange provided for; and the law was therefore experimental in its nature. Intending it as such, a period was fixed for the operations of the act. Section 9, says that "the provisions of this act for the exchange and issue of bonds shall continue in force until the first day of January, 1877." But a short time, then, remains for the further execution of the act; and unless re-enacted it must soon become a dead letter on the statute book.

In a communication from the State Treasurer to the General Assembly, which we print on another page this morning, it is distinctly set forth to what extent there has been a compliance on the part of the creditors of the State with the act of 1874-'75. Nothing has been done by the Treasurer towards carrying the act into effect. The reasons for this are fully stated. The sum of it is that the public creditors declined the proposition of the State. Mr. Jenkins reports that up to June 24, 1876, there had been offered $2,800 offered, calling for $9,050 bonds; and that at that date $483,000 more were offered calling for $[illegible] of the new bonds." As the expense of engraving bonds would be considerable, Mr. Jenkins did not think it advisable to incur such expenses when only about one bond in fifteen or twenty would be brought in. In addition to this he gives other substantial reasons for his non-compliance—such as the physical impossibility to sign the coupons as required, and sundry defects in the law which would be developed in its execution. On the whole it was manifestly his duty to defer the matter to the meeting of the General Assembly, when the defective portions of the act might be cured.

The question now arises, shall this act be re-enacted after the 1st of January next, with amendments suggested by the wisdom of the present Legislature, or shall the law be allowed to become a dead letter and the whole question of the settlement of the public debt be suffered to fall back to where it was before the act passed by the last General Assembly?

The subject is one of vital importance to North Carolina. The duty of re-establishing at the earliest possible moment the credit of the State, rests upon us with paramount obligation at this time. It is a duty which should be boldly met and discharged, for, in the language of the preamble to the act of 1874-'75, "the good people of this State are desirous of assuming and paying to the public creditors so much of the just debt of the State as their unfortunate condition will allow."

"HAYES OR A FIGHT."

We find the following rabid utterance in the columns of a Republican paper of this State:

If the people of this country submit to to the infernal cheating and stealing that has been carried on by the thief Tilden, then we hope to see a war to-morrow. U. S. Grant had better declare himself dictator than for the country to be under a thief and a traitor like Samuel J. Tilden. And we are confident that the Union people of this country will not submit to any such outrage as the Tilden thieves are trying to perpetrate.

We publish this piece of nonsense, simply to show our Democratic readers what wild talk is being indulged in by Republicans. They do not really mean war; there is no purpose on the part of even the most bellicose Republicans to fight if Congress counts Tilden in; and the blood and thunder talk of the rabid ones is all stuff. But there is a well-defined purpose at the bottom of all these absurd threats of war. The purpose is to frighten the Democrats into quiet submission to the arbitrary despotism, which, inaugurated at Columbia, is to be carried on at Washington, should the game of bluff now being played by the Republicans succeed to their liking. We do not believe there will in any event be a resort to arms. The desire for peace on any terms is too strong with the people of all sections.

THE Fayetteville Gazette states that a rumor has reached it that it is certainly the intention of the Legislature to remove Dr. Eugene Grissom from the superintendency of the State Insane Asylum. This rumor cannot be well-founded. The Legislature has expressed no intention one way or the other about the matter. If such an intention has been formed by the ruling power of the Legislature, it must have been done in caucus, and that is secret. The most, we think, that has been done in regard to the State Insane Asylum, is the expression of individual opinion by members of the General Assembly. That a very wide difference of opinion exists is likely. There are those who think that no Republican should hold office under a Democratic administration; there are others who believe that politics should die on the threshold of a charitable institution; there are others still who are disposed to think that under the existing law, the [illegible] superintendent [illegible] as he has been re-appointed by the Board of Directors, and under the act of 1868-'69 is entitled to hold his place for eight years from the first day of January, 1877. What may come of all this diversity of opinion remains yet to be seen. One thing only is certain, that the Legislature, in whatever it does in this connection, finally, will act with good sense and justice, and not imperil the usefulness of the institution, as apprehended by the Gazette.

THE summoning of Judge Fowle and Secretary Howerton to Washington, to appear before the United States Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections, created a good deal of surprise in this State. We might have expected it, however, for the reason that the Republicans are determined to find something which may give them a pretext for reversing the result at the polls on the 7th of November. Our election must undergo the same searching investigation which is being instituted in other Southern States. We neither fear it nor shun it. A fairer election than the last, in this State, was never known. There was neither fraud nor intimidation practised. Not a single deputy marshal, or Federal official, had an opportunity of exercising the authority given by Tafe's orders.

LETTER FROM WASHINGTON.

The Universal Topic -- Democrats Cheerful--Sherman to be President of the Senate--Northern Democrats will Submit--If the Senate Seats Hayes the House Will Content Itself with a Protest.

COL. WARING'S VIEWS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 9, 1876.

Editor News:

The Presidential muddle is the sole topic of conversation in all circles here. You hear it in the Capitol, at the Hotels, and indeed everywhere, and yet nothing more can be learned here than in Raleigh or Charlotte. All that I can say is that our friends are hopeful of a peaceful solution. It is rumored that the Republicans hold a caucus last night and have determined to make Senator Sherman President of the Senate. If this should prove to be true, the open attempt to stifle the voice of the two Houses of Congress, our friends hope will rather help than injure the right. There is one thing certain, that let the matter result as it may, peace will be preserved. The Northern Democrats will submit, and take these chances to preserve civil liberty and constitutional law through the future action of the two houses, my opinion is that if the Senate count in Hayes the House will not go beyond a protest, certainly will not attempt to elect Mr. Tilden. When we recollect there is not a single Democratic Legislature in the North, you will see at once how hopeless such an attempt must prove. I have by no means given up all hope. The action of the Governor of Oregon may yet unravel the Gordian knot. If the Congress decide that the Vice-President is merely a ministerial officer in counting and declaring the vote, that will let in the one vote for Tilden from Oregon which will give him the constitutional majority. If it should be decided to go behind the certificate in that instance, it opens the door, and an investigation into the vote of the contested States must follow of course. Mr. Edmunds, of Vermont, has a proposition before the Senate to amend the constitution so as to constitute the Supreme Court the tribunal to count the vote and declare the result. There are serious objections to this, and it will I think, fail. It is purely a political question and, if adopted, will do more to weaken the confidence and respect the country has for this august body than anything that has ever happened. Our people should remain quiet. An indiscreet act on the part of any Southern State will be quickly seized upon and turned to our disadvantage. We may lose the fruit of our toil, our hopes may be blighted, but we will not be one whit worse off than we have been for the past eight years. Our northern brethren love liberty, but cannot, I think, be made to believe that it will be destroyed even if Hayes is counted in by force and fraud. Your friend,

R. P. WARING.

Hear the old pard: "As we sat on Saturday evening last, enjoying our pipe in the gloamin, and conversing with the dear companion of our sorrows and joys, upon present realities and future possibilities, we were aroused to outward things by a knock at the door. On opening the same, we were met by our friend Mr. Beal, who held in his hand a goodly bunch of turnips for the Editor. We received them gratefully, being the first tribute of respect paid us in our new capacity. The turnips upon trial proved palatable as we could desire, and should all our friends honor us with such tokens of esteem we should have little apprehension of the wolf at the door. Mr. Beal has succeeded notwithstanding the dry spell in making a pretty fair crop of the vegetable above mentioned, and we certainly have cause to rejoice with him in his success. METHODISM AND THE UNIVERSITY.

Remarks of Rev. A. W. Mangum at the Greensboro Conference.

Mr. Editor:—During the consideration of the subject of education, by the conference at Greensboro last Tuesday, Prof. Mangum of the University made a brief report of his work, and its relation to the interests of the Methodist Church.—His statements are worthy of attention of all the members of that denomination in the State. He said, substantially, as follows:

'Bishop: I went to the University with the advice of Bishop Marvin. I was returned, last year, at the request of the conference, by the appointment of Bishop McTyeire. The reason of this is evident to all who are duly informed. There always has been Methodist students at Chapel Hill. Nearly one-third of the number in attendance, last year were Methodists—or under more or less of Methodist influences at home. There are Methodists there now. From various reasons, one of which is the large number of alumni, there is the certainty of Methodist patronage in the future, hence the importance of Methodist representation in the faculty. In reporting my work, I desire to refer briefly to the paramount consideration of the probabilities of the students being brought under revival influence; inasmuch as one of the eminent speakers, on Saturday, exclaimed: "Who ever heard of a revival in a State institution."

Sir, if that brother will take the path of Methodism and travel backwards, or if he start at the cradle of John Wesley and travel forward, he will soon come to the glorious birthplace of our beloved church in a University that must be called not only a State institution but one that was doubly barricaded against anything like Methodism by the dominant power and prejudice of the established church. Was there not some time since, a genuine revival of religion even in the Virginia Military Institute, despite the unfavorable influence of the thorough military system? The greatest revival I ever enjoyed in my ministry was at Chapel Hill, when, a mere youth, I saw so many of the students of the University converted at the altar of the Methodist church; when 70 of them made a profession of religion in connection with our meeting and many others through the effect of the revival on the other denominations. Remember that that was in a day when there was ten times more aristocracy and pride, and far more wickedness in the University than now.

The question about religion at the University turns upon the efforts made in its behalf. If by such speeches as that referred to, the impress on is made upon the public and the students that religious revivals are incompatible with a State institution; we may not enjoy them; but the fault will not rest first on those who withheld the efforts that were due and taught the theories that were fatal. There is nothing at the University that absolutely prevents the triumph of our religion in the conversion of souls. I am aware that there are two points on which special information should be given. The first is in regard to our having fair representation in the Faculty. I positively assure the Conference that the trustees see it as not only a duty but direct policy to give the Methodist Church representation. We are too numerous and powerful to be ignored. They desire to put in a Methodist next time. But the Methodists must furnish the right kind of man. If there are not an equal number of Methodists in the Faculty, the Methodists themselves—and they alone, will be to blame.

In making these remarks, I appreciate the relation I sustain to both the University and my church.—Frankly, I say that while I love the University much, I love Methodism more. But in this I do not allow myself to be affected so as to render my professional attention and interest unequal toward the representatives of the different churches among the students.

As to the religious interests of the students, and my directly religious work, I take pleasure in stating that we have preaching every Sabbath morning in the Methodist Church in the village. The pastor preaches the Sabbath in the month, and I preach, as a rule, every sabbath morning when he is absent. There is service at other Churches. Henceforth the bible classes on Sabbath afternoon are to be elective—each teacher thus being secured the liberty to teach denominationally; and from the chapel rostrum I expect to announce this fact specifically when I come to form my own class. I expect to teach them Methodist doctrine here, just as I teach it in my pulpit in the village. I intend to make it my Methodist Theological class. Other Churches and teachers have the same privilege. The average conduct of the students, during the past term, will compare favorably with that of any students I ever knew, even in denominational colleges.

The University is moving forward with a higher standard of scholarship and more thorough instruction than ever before, and it is destined still to exert a vast influence in society. This influence is sure to be secured by some one denomination or several denominations. The question is, will the Methodists claim and realize their share?

To the above may be added that there is a Young Men's Christian Association at the University, to which about one half of the students belong, either as full or visiting members.

THE PUBLIC DEBT.

Communication From the State Treasurer to the General Assembly.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA
Treasury Department,
RALEIGH, Nov. 28th, 1876.

Hon. Charles Price, Speaker of the House of Representatives:

Sir:—I have received a certified copy of a joint resolution of the General Assembly as follows, to wit: 'Resolved by the Senate, the House of Representatives concurring, that the Treasurer of the State be required to report at the earliest practicable moment to what extent there has been a compliance on the part of the creditors of the State with the act passed by the last General Assembly entitled 'an act to compromise, commute and settle the State debt;' and if no exchange of bonds has been made under said act, that he report whether any creditor has tendered any old bonds of the State, and the names of the creditors who have so tendered their old bonds and the amounts, and if the exchange has not been made, why not?"

In responding to this resolution, especially so far as giving the reasons for the failure in the execution of the act. I think it proper to quote from the biennial report of my predecessor, Hon D. A. Jenkins the following: "Nothing has been done towards carrying into effect the Act of the General Assembly of 1874-'75 entitled 'An Act to compromise, commute and settle the State debt,' for several reasons:

First: Very few applications have been made by bondholders for the bonds to be issued under the said act. I learn from various sources that the public creditors, as a rule would decline the proposition of the State. Up to June 24 1876 there has been only $22 800 offered, calling for $9 030 of bonds. At that date $483 600 more were offered calling for $121 350 of new bonds. The expense of engraving bonds would be considerable, and I did not think it advisable to incur such expense when only about one bond in twenty would be brought in.

Second: The act seems to require that the coupons on the new bonds shall be signed by the Treasurer. If this means that the Treasurer shall actually with his own hand affix his signature to every coupon, if the bondholders should accept the offer of the State, there would be a physical impossibility for the Treasurer to execute the law, and at the same time perform the other high and responsible duties of the office. If the act allows the signature of the Treasurer to be engraved, then a large portion of the engraving would be lost as soon as my successor should enter upon the duties. A new signature would then have to be engraved.

Third: There are defects in the law, which would be developed in its execution. There should be $500 bonds as well as those of the denomination of $1000, and $100, because there will probably be much demand for that denomination of bonds. The issue of so many $100 bonds will be burdensome both to the holder and the Treasury.

Again, no provision is made for fractional amounts, and in case even one coupon dated January 1st, 1869, or subsequent thereto, should be lacking from a bond, there is no authority for issuing a new bond in exchange therefor on any terms. As the coupons of the new bonds are to be receivable for taxes, according to the present provisions of the act, it is of the utmost importance that there shall be no question as to the legality of every step taken.

On the whole, it seemed to me clear, that it was my duty to defer the matter until the meeting of the General Assembly. I recommend that the act be amended in the foregoing particulars. It is proper to add that the course taken by myself, as suggested by the views above given, received the sanction of the Governor and Attorney General, whom I consulted."

I am unable to furnish the names of all persons who made tenders of bonds for exchange, as in some cases clients were represented by attorneys in this city, whose names were not reported.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully, your obedient servant.

J. M. WORTH,
State Treasurer.

"Facts are Stubborn Things."

Thousands of human beings are yearly borne on the swift current of disease down to the grave just because they do not possess a sufficient knowledge of themselves. A man meets his neighbor, and the first salutation is, "How are you?" or "How is your health?" The reply frequently is, "Oh, I am well, with the exception of a cold." Most persons lightly regard a cold. Reader, do you know that a cold is one of the most dangerous of maladies? A cold not only clogs up the pores of the entire system, and retards circulation, but it is productive of Catarrh, which is quite apt to lead to Consumption. "Oh," you say, "It is nothing but a cold in my head." True; but that cold is really a mild form of Catarrh, and if not arrested in its course will become chronic. Catarrh is one of the most disagreeable, offensive affections in the catalogue of diseases. The passage to the nose is obstructed the sense of smell impaired, and there is a disagreeable sensation of pressure in the head. In the more advanced stages, there is a discharge having an offensive odor. If the disease be allowed to continue in its course, thick, hard incrustations will form in the head. the bones of which sometimes become softened and break away in pieces. Why will persons continue to suffer from such an annoying, disgusting disease, when they can just as well be cured of it? Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy will cure the worst forms of Catarrh; in fact, it is the only sure and safe remedy which has yet been offered to the public. Many harsh, irritating preparations may, for a time, relieve the urgency of the symptons but they do not cure the disease. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is soothing and healing in its effects, and when used with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche according to direcions, does not fail to effect a cure. Sold by all Druggists.

Congressional Matters--The Democrats Cheerful--The Colorado Members to be Admitted.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—In the Senate, Mr. Bogy, of Missouri, presented a memorial from himself and Senators Stevenson and McDonald, embracing the report of the Democratic committee which witnessed the count by the Returning Board in Louisiana. It was ordered to be printed.

The resolution submitted yesterday by Mr. Bayard, directing the Attorney General to inform the Senate as to the number of deputy United States marshals employed on Nov. 7, the election day, was agreed to with an amendment, submitted by Mr. Edmunds, requesting the Attorney General to also communicate to the Senate a full statement as to the necessity for their employment, the object thereof, the nature of their duties, &c.

The Senate then proceeded to discuss a resolution of Mr. Mitchell, providing for an investigation in regard to the appointment of Cronin, Presidential elector in Oregon.

The friends of the new steamboat bill are represented by some of their best men, urging Sherman or Morton to call up their measure. They have some hope of early action.

Nothing is being done by the friends of the Texas Pacific road. All special legislation has yielded to politics.

The feeling of the House is to adjourn at an early day until after the holidays, if the Senate will concur, otherwise to meet and adjourn every third day until their committees return from the South.

The proceedings in Congress last night seem to have produced a cheerful feeling among the Democracy. The speeches were not aggressive, but expressed great determination to maintain their rights, if it was found they had any.

The House Judiciary Committee voted to recommend the admission of Belford, from Colorado, by a vote of seven to three. Hunton, Ashe and Hurd voted nay, and will make a minority report.

The House is discussing the joint rules question which came up on a motion to take action on Bland's silver bill.

Garfield is arguing that there are no joint rules.

The Judiciary Committee reported a resolution in accordance with last night's caucus.

SENATORIAL ELECTIONS.

Balloting in the Constitutional House --Corbin Rewarded for His Dirty Work by the Bogus House.

COLUMBIA, Dec. 12.—In the ballot to-day in the Democratic House for United States Senator, there were fourteen candidates. The votes ranged from one to eleven, which was the highest cast for Gen. M. C. Butler, of Edgefield.

Troops are arriving here from Florida. Everything quiet. No excitement whatever.

In the Republican House the ballot for United States Senator resulted in the election of United States District Attorney D. T. Corbin, who received 38 of the 66 votes cast. In the Senate Corbin received 17; Gary, Democrat, 12. Corbin was declared elected. Both Houses adjourned.

DECLINES.

Senator Robertson Declines a Renomination at the Hands of the Bogus House of Representatives of South Carolina.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 12—A Herald special from Columbia publishes the correspondence in which Senator Robertson declines being a candidate for re-election. Robertson's letter concludes: "Regarding this body intending to proceed to elect a United States Senator on Tuesday as constitutionally defective for want of the co-operation of the constitutional House of Representatives, I am constrained to withhold my name as a candidate before it."

FOREIGN.

The Feeling in Turkey--President McMahon and the Left.

LONDON, Dec. 12.—The Times' Vienna dispatch reports a greatly improved feeling on the part of Turkey.

A special from St. Petersburg to the News says that great hopes of a peaceful solution are entertained in the highest quarters.

PARIS, Dec. 12.—President McMahon, at Saturday's Cabinet Council, said: "I will never consent to part with the War Minister. I will not give up the army and its organization, which are the very security of the country, to the hazards of politics, which might at any moment overturn what has just been done and compromise the country's recovery forever."

In the Chamber yesterday evening M. Bordan charged the Left with striving to overturn McMahon and the Senate.

Chicago Democrats--Peaceful but Determined.

CHICAGO, Dec. 11.—Prominent Democrats of this city held a largely attended meeting here this evening to discuss the political situation. The sentiments expressed were generally of a pacific nature, but it was the general opinion that the House of Representatives must be maintained in its right at whatever cost. It was decided to hold a mass meeting at an early date.

Returning Board Hayes' Chin Music.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 12.—Governor Hayes, responding to a serenade, after expressing thanks, said: "You could not expect me to say much more. You could not expect me to speak of political matters on this occasion, and certainly not of the position which affairs have assumed at the present time."

Another Ineligible Elector.

DETROIT, Dec. 12—Democratic lawyers are preparing proofs and authorities that Michigan cast only ten votes for Hayes, on account of irregularities regarding Benton Hackett, who was United States Commissioner when elected.

Suffering in the Bay.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 12.—There is much suffering in the bay among the oyster men. Four colored men of the crew and the captain of the schooner "Pilot" were drowned.

NIGHT DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON.

Proceedings of Congress--Debate on the Joint Rules--Randall Maintains That the Old Rules are Operative--Reports of Committees--The Cabinet --Requisition for Hewitt's Telegrams --Morton Shelling Grover--Debate Upon Edmunds' Amendment--Confirmations--Committees Leaving, &c.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Most of to-day's session in the House was occupied in the discussion of the important questions as to whether the joint rules of the two Houses, including the rule for the counting of the Presidential votes, are or are not in force. The question came up on an incidental point, involving merely the order of business, and which could have been decided under one of the regular rules of the House, but which was decided by the Speaker under one of the joint rules, because the language used in that rule is imperative. The correctness of the Speaker's decision was assailed, and the existence of the joint rules denied by Garfield, of Ohio, Kasson, of Iowa, Burchard, of Illinois, Hoar, of Massachusetts, and McCrary, of Iowa; but the Speaker maintained his position, laying down as an axiom that what it required two bodies to do it required two bodies to undo, and that, therefore, the Senate alone could not abrogate the joint rules. He said that the count of three Presidential elections had been conducted under those joint rules, and that he saw no reason why the next vote should not be so counted. This declaration of opinion was applauded on the Democratic side of the House and in the galleries.

The bill of last session to utilize the product of gold and silver mines was then taken up under the Speaker's ruling. Its discussion is to be continued to-morrow and next day.

The fortification and the post office appropriation bills were reported from the Committee on Appropriations.

[Note.—The Senate has decided by fifty to four, that the joint rules are not in force.]

The Board of naval officers, appointed to report regarding navy yards, favor retaining all the navy yards and stations except the yard at New London, the naval ground at New Orleans and the naval property at Brunswick, Ga. They speak favorably of Port Royal as undoubtedly the finest harbor on the Southern coast, and recommend that it be used as a refitting and coaling station for the West Indies.

A two hours' cabinet discussed the nature of the reply to the resolution of Congress relative to the use of troops in the late election.

Nominations: McLaws, post master at Savannah.

It is stated that the Senate committee have called upon the telegraph company for the correspondence of Mr. Hewitt.

A report that Sheridan was ordered to supercede Hancock in command of the department of the Atlantic, and that Hancock was ordered to the Pacific coast, is authoritatively denied.

SENATE.—Mitchell called up his Oregon investigation himself, and Morton spoke, when the matter went over. The argument was mainly of a legal character, Mr. Morton citing many precedents. During his speech, Mr. Morton said that under an old English law persons executed for crime were buried by the road side, and every one who passed by cast a stone at the grave, so that the monument of the criminal might grow up with each generation. In regard to this Oregon transaction every future historian would add a comment from generation to generation, which would increase its magnitude.

Mr. Edmunds' amendment to the constitution submitting the electoral count to the Supreme Court, was debated. When a vote was about reached Mr Bogy said he desired to speak on the subject, when Mr. Edmunds said it was not his intention to unduly press this subject before the Senate, but Senators could not shut their eyes to the fact that the present condition of affairs was unsatisfactory, and if there was any way to settle this serious difficulty, one which alarms a great many people, that way should be taken as speedily as due consideration would allow. This matter had been on the tables of Senators since last session, and he could not consent to its postponement until next week. He did not feel at liberty to press it to a vote to-day, and therefore would not oppose the request of the Senator from Missouri, to allow it to lay over until to-morrow. The matter should be acted upon as speedily as possible in order that the other House of Congress could have time to act upon it and the Legislatures of three-fourths of the States have time to ratify it if acceptable. On the other hand, if it should fail, Congress should not be slow in finding some other means of ascertaining the result of the last Presidential election.

Mr. Morton again opposed the measure, and said the Senate was called upon to re-enact by it the electoral college with all its faults, and also the provision of the Constitution authorizing the House of Representatives to elect a President which was a dangerous one. In his opinion both these provisions of the Constitution should be wiped out. There was a bill now before the Senate to provide for counting the electoral vote which had passed the Senate, but was still on the table on account of a motion to reconsider, which had been entered. This bill might be passed to meet the present emergency. He hoped the Senate in the present difficulty would not be driven to the passage of a constitutional amendment which re-enacted two of the most dangerous provisions in the constitution.

Adjourned.

Confirmations:—Powers, collector of the 2nd Mississippi district; Brewster, 3rd Texas; White, 3rd Virginia. Dumont, supervisor and general consul at Santio De Cuba; Bargario, assayer of the mint at New Orleans; Weeks, melter, ditto; Cowles, assayey and melter of the mint at Charlotte, N. C. A great number of postmasters have been re-nominated.

The Senate committee for Louisiana leaves to-night; those for Florida and South Carolina, to-morrow night, via the Atlantic Coast road.
